

Denise O'Callaghan, founder of Denise's Delicious Gluten-Free Bakery in Cork, is making 500,000 of these hand-finished mince pies for customers in Ireland and the UK and in new export markets in France, Italy and Germany. In France, her Christmas range will be on sale in the gourmet store at Galeries Lafayette.

O'Callaghan, a former investment banker, first began baking gluten-free treats for her dad Michael, who is coeliac, and in 2008 she opened a commercial gluten-free bakery which now employs 13 people at its base in Little Island, Cork.

She is the author of Delicious – Recipes from my Gluten-Free Bakery (Mercier Press, €24.99).

The free-from gluten, wheat, dairy and yeasts range is on sale in supermarkets and independents and online at delicious.ie.
